HINOJOSA DESIGN STUDIO IS A MIAMI-BASED INTERIOR design firm led by acclaimed international designer Carola Hinojosa. With over 25 years of experience, the firm has captured clients all over North and South America. Hinojosa has a masterful design skill ranging from more classically inclined traditional spaces to modern and sleek spaces that are always tailored to her clients' vision. Hinojosa Design Studios' interior designs are more like private working art installations than typical interiors. Hinojosa and her team harmonize spaces to create luxurious rooms with ambiance and effect. "I believe in a modern vision of living, with simplicity in form, rich materials, exotic woods and high-end manufacturers," Hinojosa says. Function and aesthetics combine with natural surroundings drawn seamlessly into every design. Hinojosa Design Studio achieves this success by carefully balancing architectural details, thus creating beautiful, sophisticated and timeless interiors.

ABOVE: In the secondary seating area of the living room, a temple-scale Chinese alter table with gilt highlights holds a pair of antique red-beaded lamps. A Tibetan Buddha sits in front of a Moroccan mirror, while a japanned lacquer bureau holds a jade sculpture of galloping horses.

LEFT: The living room is placed in an alcove underneath a faux-painted wall. A vintage Chinese Chippendale mahogany breakfront displays a collection of cut-cased crystal. The sofa's matching companion chair and a tête-à-tête in chocolate velvet and mocha silk damask add extra seating.

ABOVE: Twin floor lamps peak out over a chocolate brown sofa and love seat paired with a red leather chaise — all designed by Christian Liaigre for Holly Hunt — to form a sultry conversation grouping in the living area. An Odegard area rug anchors a cocktail table of steel and oak displaying Marian Nuñez del Prado's "Torzo de Mujer."

LEFT: Shoji-style doors from Bartels slide open to host social gatherings in the media room, where a Calvin sofa from Holly Hunt surrounds the Galet ottoman that doubles as a cocktail table. A shade from Total Window offers privacy and sun protection.

ABOVE: The capiz-shell "Whisper" chandelier from Fuse Lighting cascades over a table circled by chairs and benches in the dining area, where African carved "Nimba" figures from Jalan Jalan stand on an antique console. Therien Studio's cabinet of birch veneer for Holly Hunt leads into the living area.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Low-profile mandarin chairs from Holly Hunt add a splash of color in perfect complement to the dark wood of the clean-lined Rakova Becker bed and the contemporary occasional table by Laure de Mazieres.
